

Newsletter

Late News

Newsletter is late this month. Getting ready for a Hook-In in Houston!!!!

May was an eventful month! I have been at the dye pots creating new wools. What fun! I have been teasing you for months and I know you will be pleased with these new exciting colors.....

Galveston Mist

Pecan Bark

Antique Parchment

Colonial Pumpkin

Colonial Squash

Antique Red

Texas
Cornmeal

Texas Wine

Velvet Purple
Swatchette

More wonderful wools coming your way in the next few months. My Awesome webmaster will be loading these really soon. I promise more blues, darks and oranges!

Logwood Purple

Introducing a new wool line dyed exclusively with barks, berries, spices and vegetables from the countryside here and in Europe

Lacey Jane Garden Wools

Madder Orange

We at Lacey Jane Primitives are going Green! Our ancestors have used natural dyes throughout the centuries and now you can add this unique antique look to your rugs and other projects! I so love these wools because they all have a special glow that you can't get with commercial dyes. The process is more elaborate, the colors more exciting. You must try these amazing wools and don't forget to incorporate them into your projects that use Lacey Jane Woolgatherings. These wools really add a spark to everything!

Primitive Yellow
Onion